

People v. David Wolpert Menlo Park Police Department

On September 9, 2022, after one hour of deliberation, a jury convicted defendant David Alexander Wolpert of making criminal threats in violation of Penal Code sections 422. The jury also found a special allegation that the Defendant used a weapon in violation of Penal Code Section 12022(b)(1) to be true.

On November 5, 2020, the Defendant drove from Sacramento to the Facebook Campus in Menlo Park after becoming angry that his Facebook account was suspended. At the Campus, the Defendant contacted the victim – a Facebook security guard. After confirming that the victim was Facebook security, the Defendant told the victim, “Well you need to tell all security that they need to get their (expletive) together. This is the second time I’m here. If I come a third time, I’m killing all of you. Please report it.” The Defendant said he was not joking and pulled out a pocketknife. The Defendant then said, “If I have to come a third time, you’re all gonna die. I’ll give you guys a month to get it together.”

The case was continued to Monday, September 19, 2022, for further proceedings and a sentencing date was set for October 7, 2022.

The prosecutor was Dominique Davis, and the investigating officer was Bryce Dale (Menlo Park Police Department.)
