CZU Lightning Complex – What You Need to Know:

Updates as of noon, Wednesday, August 26, 2020:

Fire Update

The fire overnight grew to 80,137 acres across San Mateo and Santa Cruz counties with containment at 19 percent.

A total of 11 structures in San Mateo County and 538 structures in Santa Cruz County have been destroyed. One fatality has been reported.

Mandatory evacuation orders remain in effect as the fire continues to threaten an additional 24,000 structures.

Access to the evacuation zone remains restricted. See below for further information about road closures.

County officials are working with numerous agencies to develop a repopulation plan that will allow residents to return to their homes and property safely. There is currently no timeline for re-entry.

“We know everyone wants to get home as soon as possible to assess any damage and to get back to their normal lives,” County Manager Mike Callagy said this morning. “We want to get everyone home as quickly as possible.”

Callagy said active fire along with smoldering trees and brush still pose significant threats to public safety.

In addition, crews must clear fallen trees, remove trees that threaten roads and property, repair numerous damaged bridges and, above all, ensure people can return safely.

“We are moving as fast as we can,” Callagy said. “We know people are frustrated. We’ll get everyone home as quickly as we can.”

Wildfire Survivors Can Register With FEMA for Assistance

Residents impacted by the CZU Lightning Complex fires may be eligible for assistance from the Federal Emergency Management Agency through disasterassistance.gov.

People who suffered losses from the fires should contact their insurance companies first. Insurance delivers the majority of financial help in disasters. For losses not covered by insurance, people can register for disaster assistance in three ways: online through disasterassistance.gov, by using the FEMA App or by calling 800-621-3362.
